Watch, share and support our latest Somerset Domestic Abuse Service video

Last month, Avon and Somerset Police and Crime Commissioner Clare Moody visited the Somerset Domestic Abuse Service in Yeovil to learn more about the specialist support available to victims and survivors of domestic abuse, and to see the impact of partnership working across Somerset.

We've now shared a short video from the visit and would be grateful if you could help us extend its reach by liking, commenting on and sharing the social media posts below:

A press release was issued last month detailing the important visit. You can read it here: Somerset Domestic Abuse Service welcomes visit from Police and Crime Commissioner.

The Somerset Domestic Abuse Service provides free and confidential support to adults, children and young people affected by domestic abuse, including community support, counselling, recovery programmes, legal support and access to safe accommodation.

If you are worried about someone, or if you or someone you know is experiencing domestic abuse, support is available by calling 0800 69 49 999 (8am to 8pm, seven days a week). Information, advice and live chat support (Monday to Friday, 10am to 4pm) are also available via the Somerset Domestic Abuse website.

By knowing where to signpost people for help, we can all play a part in ensuring those affected by domestic abuse get the support they need.

If you have any questions, please email Heidi Hill, Acting Community Safety Manager, heidi.hill@somerset.gov.uk.

Thank you.
